

Stop Trumps Digital Collectibles

Overview of Project

In the dynamic world of digital collectibles, Planet Crypto's project emerges as an innovative response to the intriguing phenomenon of the launch of an NFT collection by none other than Donald Trump in December 2022. Trump's collection was distinctive, to say the least, partly portraying him as a superhero. His collection swiftly grabbed attention, resulting in a rapid sell-out of the collection.

This extraordinary collection struck us as more than comical. The idea of the former President depicted as a superhero, we found, was ripe for sharp-witted parody, providing the perfect impetus for the creation of our new collection.

Our new collection is centered around a card game, but this is no ordinary game. Our creative endeavour satirically transforms Trump into various spoofed superheroes. This innovative design providing collectors with not just a unique collectible, but also a fun and engaging gaming experience as well.

Interestingly, we decided to transcend the boundary of digital space with this collection. While the trend for NFTs and digital collectibles continues to surge, we wanted to provide an offering that caters to both traditional and digital collectors. Hence, our collection will be available in physical and digital formats. This unique dual availability ensures that all collectors, regardless of their preference, can enjoy our alternative Trump collection.

For the digital collectors, we have something extra special. Digital holders of our collection will be privy to certain exclusive features, adding an additional layer of value and exclusivity to their holdings.

However, at the heart of our collection is the artwork itself. Planet Crypto's creative team have hand drawn and annotated each image in the collection. The remarkable attention to detail, the carefully drawn satirical elements, and the overall quality of the artwork, all contribute to making our collection a truly unique offering.

In essence, our collection represents more than just a playful critique of Trump's superhero portrayal. It pays homage to the age old satirical tradition, engaging with contemporary events in a way that is both entertaining and thought-provoking. We invite you to experience the joy and novelty that our collection has to offer.

Creative Team

Henry Naylor

Creative head

Leading UK satirical writer, head writer for shows such as Spitting Image, Headcase and more. Henry also wrote and starred in the multi-award winning fringe production Afghanistan is not funny.

Mark Reeve

Artistic Lead

Award-winning national press caricaturist and cartoonist. Credits include Mail on Sunday, Daily Express, Evening Standard, BBC, as well as drawing and sculpting for tv's Spitting Image.

Rhodri Crooks

Writer

Comedy writer for numerous TV shows including Revolver, The Sketch Show, Smack the Pony and BBC Radio.

Technical Details

The collection is slated for construction on the Polygon blockchain, mirroring the original Trump NFT blockchain. This also suits our commitment to providing a low gas fee experience for our users. Given the recent surge in meme coins and its subsequent impact on gas fees, we deem it risky to launch the collection on the Ethereum chain. Our proactive measures aim to ensure our users don't have to bear the brunt of such unpredictable fee surges.

The traits and rarities for the collection will be inserted here shortly.

Physical Products

This collection will be complemented by our physical products. This range is designed to complement and enhance the digital collection

- A bespoke set of cards: Each card is based on the card from the digital collection. The card set provides an opportunity to review the whole collection and test your inner Trump though playing our game. A limited edition version of the playing cards is available to purchasers of the NFTs.
- Character and Card Prints: For those who wish to find an appropriate space on a wall, we offer high-quality prints featuring our captivating characters and cards. These prints will be offered at a discount to purchasers of the NFTs.
- Coffee Table Books: We have created a coffee table book which will have images from the collection, both as card designs and as individual images. The individual images and cards are linked by unique designs. The book is a great way to flip through the whole collection and will amuse and entertain visitors to your house. These books are not just collectibles but also conversation starters that give insight into the humour and wit behind the collection.

Rules of the Game

The rules of the game are as follows

What's the Goal?

1. grab every card you can with your tiny hands.
2. be the ultimate Trump trumper, snagging all the cards,
3. And leaving your opponents empty-handed, humiliated and SAD.

The Basics

Each pack contains:

52 x Trump Cards, each card representing a different Trumper hero. Each Trumper hero has a series of ratings for Honesty, Integrity, Decency, Humility and Empathy. These ratings are always NEGATIVE. The best card is the one with the WORST rating.

12 x Stop Trump cards. These cards subvert the normal rules of the game, changing winning rounds into losing rounds or losing rounds into winning rounds. Tantrums, dishonesty and foul behaviour can be channelled to victory.

Setting Up the Game

Before the game starts, everyone has a fair deal. The cards are shuffled, and everyone gets an equal number of Trump Cards.

Then each player is dealt - face down - 3 x Stop Trump cards in a four-player game (or 2 x in a 6 player-game). Keep your Stop Trumps in front of you: until you need to play them, you can't look, touch, grope or grab them.

This is about as fair as it gets!

Gameplay

The player to the Extreme Far-Right of the dealer leads.

Using his top card, the player will choose one of the 5 categories that they think will score LOWER than any card held by one of their opponents.

The person with the LOWEST card wins the round as long as he says either "sad" or "losers".

The person who wins the hand will put those cards at the bottom of his pack. In the event that the scores are equal, the first player is the winner.

The winner of the round chooses the next category to play from his top card.

UNLESS!!!!

...one of the losers tries to overturn their opponent's victory, by chancing one of their "Stop Trump" cards from the pile in front of him, He chooses the top card.

Stop being Trumped with a Stop Trump

Yes, if your numbers don't beat your opponents - do not despair.

Because this is Donald World.. you never concede losses without a fight.

You can Stop being Trumped - by playing one of your Stop Trumps.

These special cards can help you claim victory from defeat..

Some might prevent your losses with a Presidential Pardon, others might invalidate your opponent's card as Fake News...

But beware, some of the Stop Trump cards will work against you...

HOW DO YOU WIN

You win when you've collected all the Trump cards, and have shouted: "I've Made America Great Again."

Then you goad the losers gracelessly by calling them 'SAD,' and 'the worst losers in history,'

HOW DO YOU LOSE

Badly!! You lose when you've lost all your Trump cards. You claim that your opponent's victory was 'stolen.' You berate the 'rigged' system. Demand a recount. And try and win again. In four years' time.

Future Plans

Our primary aims for the collection are the creation of a unique offering which will also have enduring value for the collectors. To ensure the project stands the test of time and is self-sustainable, we've put in considerable effort to devise a comprehensive roadmap with future-oriented plans.

One of the central aspects of our project's longevity is the development of a digital game. After the minting phase comes to a close, our attention will shift towards the creation of this digital variant of the card game. However, this isn't just another digital game; it has an exclusive element to it. It will only be available to those who hold our digital collectibles. This exclusivity brings an added layer of value to our collectors, thereby enriching their experience and the worth of their holdings.

But that's not all. To make the game more interactive and exciting, we're planning on incorporating a leader board. We believe a healthy competition among our community members can foster stronger bonds and drive active participation. The top performers on this leader board won't just earn bragging rights, but they'll also receive cash prizes.

We envisage future projects which will take inspiration from this one, and in which our community will be invited to present ideas. We can thus build a portfolio of select and exclusive products in which everyone can participate in the future.

In conclusion, we hope we can create a project that is not only long-lasting and self-sufficient, but also one that adds significant value to our community. We look forward to walking this path of innovation and growth with our community, and can't wait to see where it takes us.

Road Map

